OHIO BATTLES HIGH EXPENSES

Communities All Striving To Keep Within Reduced Tax Budgets.

PUBLIC WASTE FOUGHT

Nothing Overlooked in Struggle To Slash Costs of Operation.

By The Associated Press

Ohio has drawn on the gloves and laid down a challenge for a finish fight with public waste and extravagance.

Already, in the Buckeye state's leading cities and counties, the struggle is on. In some, victory has been won—with a promise of millions of dollars in governmental savings next year. In others, the battle is just beginning.

But in all, an Associated Press survey revealed today, there is manifested a stern determination to pare budgets for 1933 and to reduce taxes.

Most of the savings will be effected by slashing salaries and eliminating or combining overlapping departments, and cautious purchasing of supplies is helping, too.

However, the estimated expenditures for the current year have exceeded the revenue in many municipalities.

Mahoning county, threatened by an operating budget shortage of $402,000, stepped in and cut it down $239,000 by eliminating material items.

School Term Cut

Youngstown balanced its school budget by slicing 10 per cent off salaries, scheduling a shorter school term and effecting other general economies.

Toledo lopped one million dollars off operating expenses through a 25 per cent wage cut to all employes. But the city still is threatened with a $3,000,000 deficit.

Cuyahoga county and Cleveland apparently lived above their means the first half of 1932, but both

OHIO YOUTH KILLS FATHER

Victim Slain for Attacking Wife with Hammer in Domestic Row.

By The Associated Press

PAINESVILLE, O., Aug. 4—A father, beating his wife with a sledge hammer, was shot and killed in Willowick, near here early today, by his 17-year-old son.

Willowick police said the fight and shooting were described by the boy, Raymond Hetha, who was held when his father, C. P. Hetha, was found dead. The boy's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Hetha, was taken to a Painesville hospital in a critical condition.

Raymond was quoted as saying he shot his father to defend his mother.

Neighbors and the son told police the husband and his wife had been quarreling for a long time.

Early this morning, the fight broke out with murderous intensity, they related. Hetha seized the hammer and chased his wife until he cornered her in the kitchen, and struck her several times.

The son ran upstairs and got a gun, and was pointing at his father a moment later when the father also produced a gun and aimed at the son.

Raymond said the father's weapon failed to explode because without his father knowing it, he had filed down the firing pin so it would not explode the cartridge. The youth explained he took this precaution some time ago because of his father's threats.

When the parent's gun failed to work, Hetha ran to the garage, with the boy shooting at him and following. One shot struck the man in the left side of the head.

Deputy Marshal Guy Letton, summoned by neighbors, found Mrs. Hetha, with her head badly battered, lying on a cot. Her husband was dying in the rear yard. The son, with a large calibre pistol still in his hand, readily submitted to arrest.

Plans Long Flight.

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 4 —Bob Buck, 16-year-old Hillside aviator and junior cross country record holder, plans to take off at midnight tonight on the first leg of his Newark-to-Mexico City flight. His take-off was delayed 24 hours by bad weather. He expects to cover the 2,300 miles to the Mexican capital in 20 hours or less.

County's Budget for Next Year Is Cut $45,000

$180,000 To Be Raised by Tax Levy; Balance from Other Sources.

HEARING DATE SET

Salary Reductions. Other Economies in Offices Bring Decrease.

A budget calling for $180,000 for the operation of the county in 1933 has been given tentative approval by the county commissioners. This budget, $45,000 lower than the budget for 1932, was set for public hearing Aug. 22 at 10 a. m.

The budget also calls for $28,000 for bond retirement purposes, including $9,000 of poor relief bonds. This total is $7,000 less than was asked for bond retirement purposes a year ago.

Of the total asked by the county, it is expected that $180,000 will be levied in general taxes, $45,000 will come from fees collected in county offices, and the remainder from several other sources of smaller amounts. The budget for 1932 shows that general taxation was expected to raise $225,000, or $45,000 more than is expected from this source next year.

Reductions Made

Sweeping reductions in several departments and economies in practically every office were necessary to enable the commissioners to reduce the budget for operating expenses by a margin of $45,000. Included in the savings are reductions in the salaries of deputies and clerks made early this year. Voluntary salary reductions taken by elective officials do not show up in the budget, as the law requires that the commissioners appropriate the full amount of the salaries of elective officials. The officials then voluntarily draw their vouchers for decreased amounts.

One of the greatest reductions occurred in the ditch fund, for which $2,500 or $9,340 less than for 1932, is asked.

Other funds, the amount it is estimated they will need in 1933, and the difference between the 1933 and 1932 requests follow: Court house and jail fund, $16,200, a decrease of $4,300; probate and juvenile courts, $12,044, a decrease of $2,756; auditor's office, $13,900, a decrease of $3,200; surveyor's office, $10,825, a decrease of $3,175; board of elections, $15,023, a decrease of $3,175; children's home, $18,100, a decrease of $1,900; recorder's office $5,470, a decrease of $1,730; treasurer's office, $8,550, a decrease of $1,650; commissioner's office, $8,471.40, a decrease of $1,228.60; agriculture, $4,000, a decrease of $800; general courthouse office expense, $1,795, a decrease of $705; clerk of courts, $7,915, a decrease of $685; advertising, $1,000, a decrease of $500; detention home, $2,500, a decrease of $300; sheriff's office, $16,200, a decrease of $200; Third district court of appeals $248, a reduction of $52.

Court Ends Boy's 'Shopping' Tour for Sister, Five

A 12-year-old Marion boy's ambition to see his little sister, 5, wearing better clothes was disclosed yesterday when the boy was taken before Juvenile Judge Oscar Gast on charges of shoplifting.

The boy had stolen a small dress, stockings, and in his "shopping tour" had picked up a bathing suit and a chocolate bar, all of which he stuffed into a handbag for his sister.

His activities were discovered in one of the two stores he visited and he was sent to the detention home to await a hearing before Judge Gast.

Judge Gast ordered him to take the stolen articles back to the owners of the two stores where they were stolen, and freed the boy on probation.

The court gave the boy encouragement in his ambition to provide for his sister, but explained that he would have to accomplish this by honest methods.

PROBE OF REYNOLDS DEATH IS RENEWED

By The Associated Press

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Aug. 4—A county grand jury is believed to have started a new investigation of the death of Smith Reynolds, 20-year-old heir to tobacco millions.

The jury resumed its session today after an unexplained appearance before it yesterday of Sheriff Transou Scott.

Scott insisted on a coroner's inquest, which found Reynolds met his end at the hands of "party or parties unknown." Scott refused to comment on his trip to the jury room yesterday.

FOUR CONVICTS KILLED IN DASH FOR FREEDOM

Battle Occurs When Fugitives in Arkansas Are Trapped in Woods.

TRUSTY GUARD IS SLAIN

Seven Prisoners Stage Break; Seize or Dismantle All Guns at Camp.

By The Associated Press

TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark., Aug. 4—Four convicts were killed and three wounded in a daring break from a prison camp stockade and a subsequent gun battle between the fugitives and officers today.

Seven convicts, one of whom killed a trusty serving as a guard at the stockade here, were surrounded by officers in a wood 25 miles from the prison and three were shot to death, two were wounded and two others surrendered.

Camp Guns Seized

The prisoners took all the guns they could carry from the prison camp and dismantled the others.

Officials said a trusty named R. G. Jones shot and killed Else Howell, another trusty, serving as a guard, and then led the others from the stockade.

Howell was slain as he resisted attempt to take his rifle and Cecil Allen, another trusty-guard, was struck over the head with a gun and was slightly hurt.

Everett Thackerley, a life termer convicted of murder, was among the fugitives. Authorities described him particularly as a desperate man.

Pursued Into Woods

The group headed toward England, Ark., and 60 or more officers searched the woods in that vicinity.

The convicts escaped on horses but later abandoned them and fled into the woods.

Dismantling of all the firearms left at the camp stockade delayed the search until officers could arrive from other places.

BLAST MINE POWER LINES

STRIKERS CALL MEETING

Protest to Governor That Operators Are Importing Strike Breakers.

By The Associated Press

ATHENS, O., Aug. 4—Electric lines furnishing current to Chauncey, Millfield and Athens were dynamited early today and then shortly after darkness had settled over the community the general store of the Manhattan Coal Co. at Chauncey was blown up, wrecking the interior.

Shortly after midnight the "twin" power line of the Southern Ohio Electric Co. outside of Chauncey was severed by two blasts which tore down three poles.

A few minutes later a hole about six feet long and seven feet wide was torn in the side of the two story hollow tile store by a terrific blast. The interior of the store and merchandise were wrecked.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Kennard and their two-year-old child and Fred Brown were sleeping in apartments above the store. All were thrown from their beds and were injured slightly. Kennard is the store manager, and Brown a clerk.

Authorities immediately started an investigation of the blasts but no arrests have been made.

The United Mine Workers scale committee of the Hocking Valley district today sent a telegram to Gov. George White in which it was charged that operators in the region are failing to abide by an agreement not to import strike breakers.

Strike breakers have been brought in, the charge specified, from Muskingum, Gallia, Lawrence and Jackson counties.

Gov. White was called upon either to remove the National Guard troops stationed in the region "or to make the operators shut down or discharge the strike breakers."

Meantime William D. Morris, secretary of the state committee, issued a statement in which he urged the strikers "to stand firm," and leaders called a mass meeting at Athens Friday night.

7,000 BALES OF HAY BURN

Green Camp Threatened Before Firemen Bring $4,000 Blaze Under Control.

OUTSIDE AID IS CALLED

Flames Spread to Postoffice; Barn Owned by Marion Man Is Destroyed.

Special to The Star

GREEN CAMP, O., Aug. 4—A spectacular fire that destroyed 7,000 bales of hay and straw here last night threatened to sweep a section of the village before it was brought under control.

Fire departments from Marion and Prospect were called to aid the local firemen in bringing the blaze under control.

The hay and straw, owned by James DeLong of Green Camp, was stored in a barn near the business section. The barn belonged to James Beard of Marion. The loss was estimated at approximately $4,000.

The postoffice and the Robert Boxwell home were threatened by the flames. All the furniture was removed from the Boxwell home which was just across the alley from the burning building. The postoffice, 25 feet away, caught fire several times but the flames were extinguished.

Spontaneous combustion was blamed for the fire. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lawrence, who were among the first to discover the fire, said flames seemed to envelope the building all at once. The fire started about 8 p. m.

The flames, shooting high into the air and carrying dense clouds of smoke, attracted hundreds of motorists within a short time.

The Marion fire department was unable to aid in fighting the fire on account of a difference in hose equipment.

Barn at Forest Destroyed by Fire

Special to The Star

FOREST, O., Aug. 4—A barn and its contents of grain and hay were destroyed last night on the Frank Fernbaugh farm four miles east of here. Members of the family were in Forest and the blaze was discovered by a neighbor, E. O. Morrison. The local fire department was called, but the fire had passed beyond control when it arrived.

MICHIGAN MURDERER OF GIRL GETS LIFE

Speedy Justice Given Slayer; Victim Found Buried in Cellar Yesterday.

By The Associated Press

LUDINGTON, Mich., Aug. 4 — Francis Nash, confessed slayer of Evelyn Sanford, 17-year-old farm girl, whose body was found buried in a cellar yesterday, was sentenced today to life imprisonment in solitary confinement at hard labor.

The sentence, pronounced by Circuit Judge Hal J. Cutler after Nash had refused to take the witness stand in his own behalf, was received with applause by a crowd which packed the court room and the corridors of the building.

Preparations were begun at once to take the 31-year-old bachelor recluse to Michigan branch prison at Marquette. Precautions were taken by state police, sheriff's deputies and city police to move him through the big crowd in the courthouse and on Ludington streets.

The crowd was orderly, however, and at no time was there any indication that the officers were not in complete control of the situation.

Stirred by the discovery of the girl's bruised body in a shallow cellar grave in Freesoil yesterday, residents voiced threats to lynch Nash. He was spirited from Freesoil to Traverse City yesterday and today police waited for hostile feeling to subside before arraigning

GAS COMPANY SUED FOR BLAST DAMAGES

Bettman Action Asks $1,100,000 for State Office Building Explosion.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 4—Attorney General Gilbert Bettman today filed suit in the Franklin county common pleas court against the Columbus Gas & Fuel company for $1,100,000 damages as a result of an explosion at the new state office building last April 14.

The fatal blast occurred late on the day of April 14. Ten workmen putting finishing touches on the structure met death and others were injured. The damage was estimated at more than $1,000,000.

Investigators agreed that the explosion centered in the sub basement. The blast ripped through the interior of the structure from the basement to the roof and blew out a section of the marble wall facing the Scioto river.

Main Faulty, Is Charge

In his petition Bettman charged that the company had a high pressure gas main under the east sidewalk of the Scioto boulevard, at the west front of the building. He claimed this main was of faulty construction and permitted gas to seep into the basement.

He further charged that the company was negligent, alleging that the concern constructed the main in violation of the terms of a franchise with the city of Columbus, which required inner and outer pipe with vents to permit escaping gas to reach the surface without creating dangerous conditions. He alleged that the main installed was of single pipe with welded joints.

The petition cited in detail damages to the building and said the state had lost a large sum of money because the explosion had rendered the structure unfit for occupancy, thus causing the state to continue to pay high rentals for outside office space.

Concluding his claims the attorney general said, "I hope definitely to fix a responsibility for the disaster which has resulted in such a terrific loss. This suit was deferred until all angles were investigated and it is my opinion we are justified in filing, thus, the present action."

Holds Claim Against Contractor

He made it clear, however, that the filing of the suit did not mean the state would relinquish its claim against the contractor, the Struck Construction Co., of Cincinnati and Louisville.

Shortly after the explosion occurred three investigations were launched, one by the state office building commission, a second by a committee named by Gov. George White and a third by the contractors. Experts on explosives employed by these investigators decided unanimously that the blast was not caused by a high explosive. At first it was believed the blast was the work of bombers who sought for some undetermined reason to destroy the building.

STOCK PRICES IN BRISK RISE

Traders Take Part in One of Most Vigorous Rallies in Months.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 4—Prices skyrocketed in a seething stock market today as traders tumbled over themselves to ride with one of the most vigorous rallies in months.

After a strong opening leading issues lost their gains but fresh buying was supplied in large volume and quotations again raced upward, establishing net advances of $1 to $4 or more in pivotal issues. American Telephone soared to within a few cents of par, $100, closely followed by such issues as Allied Chemical, Union Pacific, American Can, J. I. Case, U. S. Steel, Santa Fe and others.

The market had to buck intermittent profit-taking but volume was maintained at a high level and the tape at times fell considerably behind transfers on the floor of the stock exchange.

The market continued to boil into the afternoon. Volume to noon approximated [illegible] shares, the largest turnover for two hours since the session of Saturday, Feb. 13, when about [illegible] shares changed hands.

American Telephone finally reached par, selling at that level for the first time since May 31, while U. S. Steel, crossing [illegible], attained its best price since April [illegible].

The market was vigorously supported by wheat, which extended its advance liberally after trading opened in Chicago.

There were further gains in [illegible].

DECISION MAY COME TODAY

Company Turns Down City's Request for Repaving of Streets.

HEARING IN COLUMBUS

State Approves Agreement Between Bucyrus and Electric Co. Officials.

An apparent deadlock developed this afternoon between Marion city officials and officials of the C. D. & M. Electric Co. over disposition of the Marion-Bucyrus branch car lines within the city. Officials of the city and the electric company failed to reach an agreement as they met with the state utilities commission in Columbus at a second hearing in regard to the company's petition to discontinue the Marion-Bucyrus line.

At the hearing, the city, represented by Carter M. Patten, city solicitor, and E. O. Uncapher, service director, demanded that the electric company remove the tracks within the city limits and repave the streets. Representatives of the electric company refused to agree to this. Patten and Uncapher it was understood voiced the stand taken at a recent meeting of city council.

At the hearing today no compromise plan had been proposed and city officials showed no inclination to accept the plan to be followed in Bucyrus. The Bucyrus plan calls for sealing a portion of the tracks and the removal of a short section where there is no paving between the rails.

Bucyrus Program Approved

The agreement between Bucyrus officials and C., D. & M. representatives was approved this morning by the utilities commission.

The Marion side of the case was taken under advisement by the commission following the hearing. It was probable that a decision might be returned yet this afternoon.

Testimony of Patten and Uncapher followed the presentation of the electric company's side of the case.

C. C. Moyer of Delaware, superintendent of the company's electric railway lines, testified that the company in 1928 and 1929 had spent $71,236 on improvements in Marion and that the tracks and the street were in good condition.

As soon as terms for the disposal of tracks in both cities have been agreed upon, the commission will fix a date on which the company can abandon its line.

The utilities commission three weeks ago gave the electric company permission to abandon the Marion-Bucyrus division provided that the electric company made arrangements with the cities to dispose of their tracks in a satisfactory manner.

In Bucyrus, the company will seal most of the rails with a surfacing material, and will remove an 800-foot section where there is no paving between the rails.

Regarding the tracks in Marion, Harry N. Evans, an engineer for the state utilities commission, testified that he had made a survey of the tracks here and had found very few depressions in the street that could not be satisfactorily treated with a resurfacing material.

City council in a recent conference with electric company officials asked that the rails be removed from the streets, but the company would not agree to do this.

SECOND PLACE NINES MOVE UP IN PLAYOFF OF POSTPONED TILTS

Epworth Seniors, Lee Street Both Pick Up on Respective League Leaders.

BY BOB KIRKPATRICK
Sports Editor The Star

With the leaders in both circuits idle the two runner up teams in the No 1 and 2 Sunday school softball circuits moved closer the top yesterday as the result of the play off of postponed games. In the No 2 church loop the Epworth Seniors sliced a half game off the lead of the Christian Seniors by beating First Reformed 3 1 the Methodists moving to within one game of the leaders. In the No 1 circuit Lee Street picked up a half game on the Presbyterians and St. Mary by beating Calvary 2-1. Two other games were played Epworth Bishops handing John Clark's Epworth No 1 team a 3 2 beating and Trinity Baptist administering an 11 2 setback to the Lutherans.

A home run by Edgington with one man aboard proved the undoing of Reformed. The two runs that scored as a result proved sufficient to beat the Prospect street church team. Corwin and Schwaderer both displayed good form each allowing three hits.

Two runs in the seventh inning jerked victory out of the fire for Lee Street and left them in a position to reenter the title race should the Presbyterians and St. Mary both falter and lose next week in the final game of the season.

Calvary held Lee Street scoreless for six innings with some good defensive play but one hit and two errors accounted for two tallies in the final frame. Calvary chalked up its lone marker in the sixth inning.

Two home runs in the first inning by Lingo and Roush got the Epworth Bishops off to a good enough start to enable them to drop the Epworth No 1 team for the tenth time this season. The losers outhit the Bishops 6 to 4 but Eddie Mautz kept the No 1 team's hit well scattered.

Trinity Baptist clubbed Don Atkinson with great vigor as the Baptists racked up an easy 11 2 victory over the eighth placers. While Trinity was shellacking Atkinson Kimball was limiting the Lutheran batters to two hits. Trinity's 12 big hits included a home run by Moses one triple and three doubles.

Tennis Regains Position of Prominence in Marion

Tennis has come back in Marion! The net game so popular with Marion sport fans until several years ago when the newly discovered softball forced it into the background has quietly resumed its place on the stage of Marion's theater of sports.

Late last summer an enthusiastic group of tennis fans in the neighborhood of Franklin Lafayette and Bradford streets erected a neighborhood court. The membership fee was more than reasonable and all last summer the Neighborhood Tennis Co Incorporated was busy playing from early morn till dark. This year although the newness of the neighborhood court has vanished eager members still play whenever they have a spare moment.

The Vernon Heights Tennis club which keeps two courts in condition at the southern end of Vernon Heights boulevard has also been working full time this summer. With its enrollment books boasting a membership of 17 regular senior members and six in the junior group the East side club sees no end of activity.

Two other tennis courts in the city which were permitted to become unfit for use last summer have been rolled weeded and repaired to such an extent that they are both in excellent playing condition. One court is owned by St Paul's Lutheran church on Bellefontaine avenue while the other is maintained by the city at the corner of Superior and Cleveland avenue.

The three courts of the Marion Steam Shovel Athletic association in charge of John Alexander are in first class condition. These courts are used constantly by the 50 Shovel employes who have registered to play on them and also by 15 outsiders who have paid for membership in the association. A city tournament to take place in in the near future is being planned by the Association.

All these facts not only indicate that tennis has come back but they also tend to show (that a great many Marion sport fans have gone decidedly netty!)

WEAK SUPPORT CAN'T STOP SOX HILL STAR

Ted Lyons Pitches Winning Ball with Second Division Team.

Ted Lyons who is in his tenth year of serving up right hand pitching for the Chicago White Sox might be justified if he loosed a complaint against the fate that has condemned him to a second division club through the greater part of his major league career and has left him with few hopes of escape.

Going directly to the Sox from Baylor university in 1923 Lyons has pitched good ball most of the time. In only two of his nine seasons has he fallen below the 500 mark in games won and lost and his earned average has always been well up the list.

This season he has pitched some great ball only to run into a succession of tough games.

Ted had to take things into his own hands yesterday to pull out a 3 2 decision over the New York Yankees in a 10 inning game. Going into the eighth trailing 1 2 Lyons squared the count by cracking out a double and coming home on a sacrifice and a long fly.

The only other game on the majors yesterday saw Vic Sorrell get the better of a battle with Al Thomas and Fred Marberry to give Detroit a 2 to 1 decision over the Washington Senators.

AMERICANS ADD TO HUGE POINT LEAD

Records Shattered with Abandon as Yank Stars Outclass All Other Competitors

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

LOS ANGELES Aug 4 They have been waiting a long while at Olympiads to wave the old flag so briskly but today these Americans can go to the patriotic limit with the star spangled banner draped all over the Olympic track and field band wagon.

With the big show only half completed the United States has already dominated the greatest outbreak of Olympic record smashing of all time romped off with nine of the 16 track and field events for men and women including highly cherished sprint titles and rolled up a staggering margin on points.

After politely watching the flags of Ireland Poland Britain and Canada wave victoriously the Americans yesterday swept all four of the men's track and field finals.

The record crowd of 85,000 saw Eddie Tolan American negro lead a sweep of the 200 meters final to become the first double Olympic sprint champion the United States has had in 20 years.

Miller Wins Vault

They saw Bill Miller of San Diego a product of Stanford university outvault the Japanese boy Shuhei Nishida in the first 14 foot duel in Olympic history.

The American boy finally won at 14 feet 1⅞ inches.

They roared as the Yankee timber toppers led to the tape by George Saling of Iowa swept the final of the spectacular 110 meter high hurdles race.

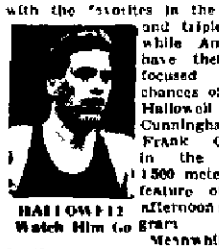
They volleyed cheers for Babe Didrikson of Texas who broke her second world record in as many events by racing over the 80 meter high hurdles in the stunning time of 11.8 seconds to lead the three American girl qualifiers for today's final.

And finally the crowd watched two husky Americans six times excell the Olympic discuss tossing record. John Anderson former Cornell university star finally beat Henri Laborde of Stanford with a final heave of 162 feet 4⅞ inches.

Of the total of twelve flags that fluttered in honor of the Olympic medalists in these four events 10 were the American emblem.

Far from the stadium's tumult and shouting Great Britain's game and gallant pedestrian Thomas William Green hoofed his way to victory in the 50,000 meter walk.

Today Finland and Japan may take their turn in the spotlight with the favorites in the javelin and triple jump while Americans have their eyes focused on the chances of Pen' Hallowell Glenn Cunningham and Frank Crowley in the classic 1500 meter final feature of this afternoon's program.



HALLOWELL
Watch Him Go

Meanwhile and for the next four years the United States can bask in the outstanding achievement of its star spangled day —the triumph of Tolan.

Surprises Experts

He couldn't make the American team four years ago. Like many another youth he was hard pressed for funds this year and needed the aid of a friend to get to California by automobile for the final American tryouts. At Palo Alto Tolan twice trailed the great Ralph Metcalfe to the tape in the competition race for places on the American team as well as national championships.

The tip is said Metcalfe would run away from Eddie in the 200 because he was bigger and stronger but Tolan came back to win hands down. He beat George Simpson the third American sprint ace by a good 1½ yards in the Olympic record time of 21.2 seconds while Metcalfe came in third.

Saling's triumph in the hurdles was not surprising in view of his world record equalling performance of 14.4 in the semi finals. The Iowan however came on to win the final in 14.6 mainly on the perfection of his form after his rival Percy Beard tripped over the next to the last hurdle and lost a good lead. The third American in this sweep first in the high hurdles since 1912 for the U S A was Jack Keller of Ohio State whose slow start cost him his chances of victory.

FONSECA AGAIN AT CHICAGO SOX HELM

By the Associated Press

CHICAGO Aug 4 In the midst of the noise caused by the dismissal of Rogers Hornsby as pilot of the Cubs Owner J Louis Comiskey had come forward with the announcement that Lew Fonseca would continue as manager of the White Sox in 1933.

"We haven't made much headway this year but Fonseca will manage the White Sox again next season" Owner Comiskey said.

RURAL DIAMOND LOOP TO LAUNCH TITULAR STRUGGLE SATURDAY

Six County Teams To Start Little World Series at M S S Field

The second annual Little World Series of the Marion county softball league will be launched Saturday at 6 15 p m at the Marion Steam Shovel athletic field on Uncapher avenue. Six teams will compete in the county diamond meet this season instead of four as last year on account of the fact that two teams finished in a tie for second place in both the North and South divisions of the circuit. Rather than play off the deadlocks the county commission decided to allow all six to compete in the series for the county championship.

Kirkpatrick Caledonia and the Marion County Children's home will represent the north division of the circuit. Waldo Green Camp and Pleasant will carry the colors of the South half.

The series will be played under the same system as the Marion city world's series is played namely the double elimination plan. Each team must be defeated twice before being eliminated. The finals of the series will be played at Lincoln park in the afternoon but the date is not definite.

Games will be played on all three Shovel diamonds Saturday starting at 6 15 p m. Waldo and Kirkpatrick will play on Diamond No 1 Caledonia and Green Camp will play on diamond No 2 and Pleasant and the Children's home will play on diamond No 3.

Pennants will be awarded the winners and runners up for county championship.

The complete final standing of the two divisions of the league follow.

THE NEW SINCLAIR REGULAR has a higher anti-knock rating than some premium fuels

It's a bold claim — but we can prove it! The new Sinclair Regular Gasoline actually has a higher anti-knock rating than some premium fuels costing you 3 cents more per gallon!

Sinclair spent $18,000,000 on new refinery equipment to step up the anti-knock rating of Sinclair Regular by 70%. For speedy getaway in traffic — for knockless power on the hills — for outstanding fuel economy, you'll drive a long way before you'll find a gasoline to compare with it at such a price. Try it yourself for 30 days. Test the truth of all we claim here. The astounding sales increases which the new Sinclair Regular has made since it was put on the market prove that this is the gasoline of the century! Ask for the new Sinclair Regular, stepped up 70%.

NOTE: For best results, use Sinclair Opaline or Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil. Both have been de-waxed, and also freed from petroleum jelly at as low as 60° F. below zero.

BENTON IN FORM

Former Big League Star Burning Up Association Race

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO Aug 4—If the lurking major league scouts didn't know his age they might send a rush wire to headquarters these days that they had discovered a new pitching sensation in a fellow named Rube Benton

For the old veteran who has been tossing left hand slants in a big way for 22 years in the majors and minors is burning up the American Association this season

Rube is 42 and a member of the has been brigade but he doesn't know or show it All he has done this year is to reel off 13 victories for the league leading Minneapolis Millers and jump into thick of the struggle for league pitching honors He has lost but five games

His latest triumph came on foreign territory yesterday as he pitched the Millers to 5 to 3 victory over Toledo He gave the Mud Hens seven scattered hits and walked but one

THE GUMPS

BY SIDNEY SMITH

FOUND!
THE PEARL NECKLACE — IN SCOOGE'S SAFE — NOW HOW TO GET IT IS THE NEXT THING - IT WILL BE JUST TOO BAD FOR HENRIETTA IF SHE DOESN'T WEAR THE PEARLS —
THEY ARE GOING TO SEE THE GUMPS AGAIN — AND TOM IS DYING TO SHOW THEM TO ANDY —
8-4
THOSE ARE MY PEARLS — THEY BELONG TO ME — HE STOLE THEM FROM ME — YOU HAD NO RIGHT TO ACCEPT THEM — HOW CAN I GET THEM BACK?
A MAN BY THE NAME OF TOWNSEND ZANDER PAWNED THEM — HE HAS THE TICKET — YOU'LL HAVE TO SEE HIM —
BUT HE WILL NEVER - NEVER - CALL FOR THEM — WHERE WILL HE GET THE MONEY? I HAVE A SCHEME — LOAN THEM TO ME JUST FOR TONIGHT — I WILL PAY YOU FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS IN CASH —
THE NECKLACE
THAT NIGHT AS TOM AND HENRIETTA SAUNTERED DOWN THE STREET —
WELL - SWEETHEART - NOW I'M PROUD OF YOU — I CAN'T WAIT UNTIL ANDY GUMP SEES THOSE PEARLS - YOU KNOW I WAS BEGINNING TO THINK YOU HAD GOTTEN RID OF THEM —
YOU SILLY BOY -
SIDNEY SMITH

TILLIE THE TOILER

BY RUSS WESTOVER

LOOK AT THIS PLANE HOW LOW IT IS FLYING
THERE'S SOMETHING ON THE WING
IT'S - A MAN AND - HE'S GOING TO JUMP
I DON'T DARE LOOK
HERE HE COMES NOW - LOOK OUT
O-OH
WHY, MAC - WHERE DID YOU COME FROM?
JUST DROPPED IN - THE PILOT'S A FRIEND OF MINE

TOOTS AND CASPER

BY JIMMY MURPHY

I WANT YOU TO CONTINUE LIVING WITH TOOTS AND CASPER FOR A FEW DAYS MORE, MABEL, UNTIL WE COMPLETE OUR PLANS FOR THE FUTURE! I'LL STAY WITH MY FOLKS IN THE MEANTIME, BUT REMEMBER! DON'T SAY A WORD ABOUT US BEING MARRIED! I CAN HARDLY WAIT UNTIL WE'RE IN A LITTLE HOME OF OUR OWN, DEAREST!
MAYBE I'D BETTER TELL THE FOLKS ABOUT MY MARRIAGE AND HAVE IT OVER WITH! I HOPE THE COLONEL WON'T GET SORE WHEN I ASK HIM FOR THE DOUGH TO TAKE A HONEYMOON TRIP!
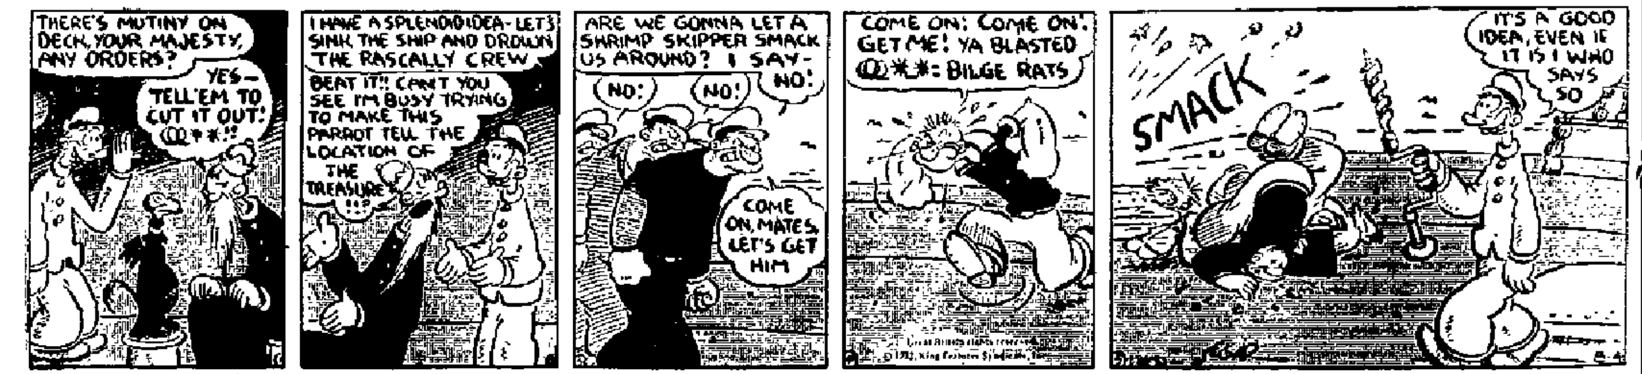
OH! CALM DOWN, COLONEL HOOFER! WHY, YOU'RE ACTUALLY FROTHING AT THE MOUTH!
I'M GIVING YOU FAIR WARNING, SOPHIE, THAT IF DANNY EVER MARRIES MABEL I'LL DISOWN HIM! SHE'S A SWELL GIRL, BUT I'LL MOVE HEAVEN AND EARTH TO PREVENT ANY WEDDING THAT WILL MAKE CASPER A RELATIVE OF MINE!
I GUESS I'D BETTER WAIT UNTIL HE'S IN A BETTER HUMOR BEFORE I TELL HIM I'M ALREADY MARRIED TO MABEL —! WHAT A SHOCK HE'S DUE FOR! HE'LL NEED THOSE SMELLING SALTS HE BOUGHT THE OTHER DAY!
JIMMY MURPHY
CONTINUED TOMORROW.

THIMBLE THEATER

BY SEGAR



THERE'S MUTINY ON DECK, YOUR MAJESTY, ANY ORDERS?
YES — TELL 'EM TO CUT IT OUT! @*✱!!
I HAVE A SPLENDID IDEA - LET'S SINK THE SHIP AND DROWN THE RASCALLY CREW
BEAT IT!! CAN'T YOU SEE I'M BUSY TRYING TO MAKE THIS PARROT TELL THE LOCATION OF THE TREASURE!
ARE WE GONNA LET A SHRIMP SKIPPER SMACK US AROUND? I SAY - NO!
NO!
NO!
COME ON, MATES, LET'S GET HIM
COME ON! COME ON! GET ME! YA BLASTED @✱✱: BILGE RATS
SMACK
IT'S A GOOD IDEA, EVEN IF IT IS I WHO SAYS SO

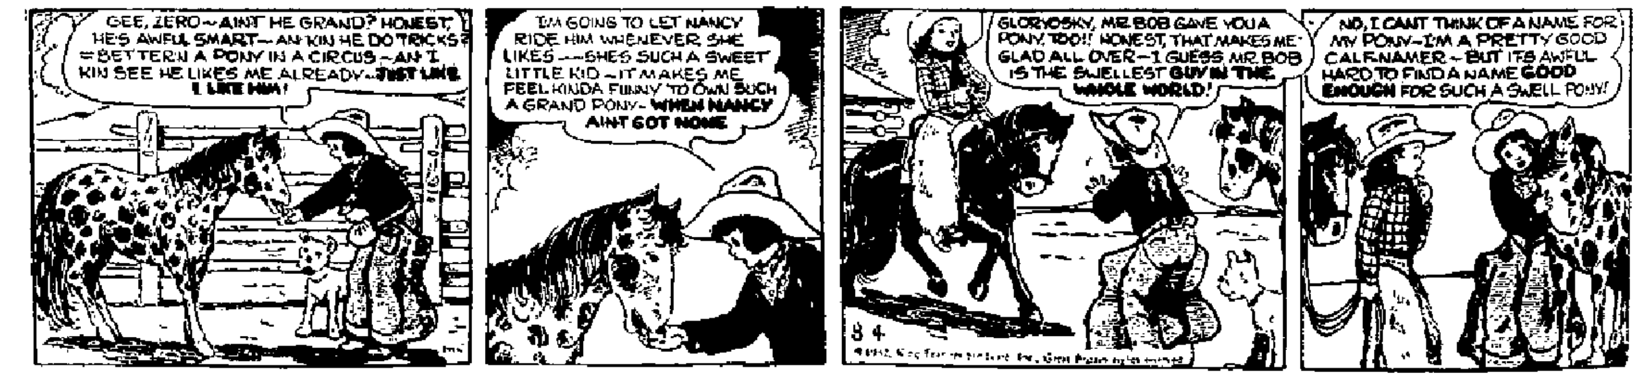
ANNIE ROONEY

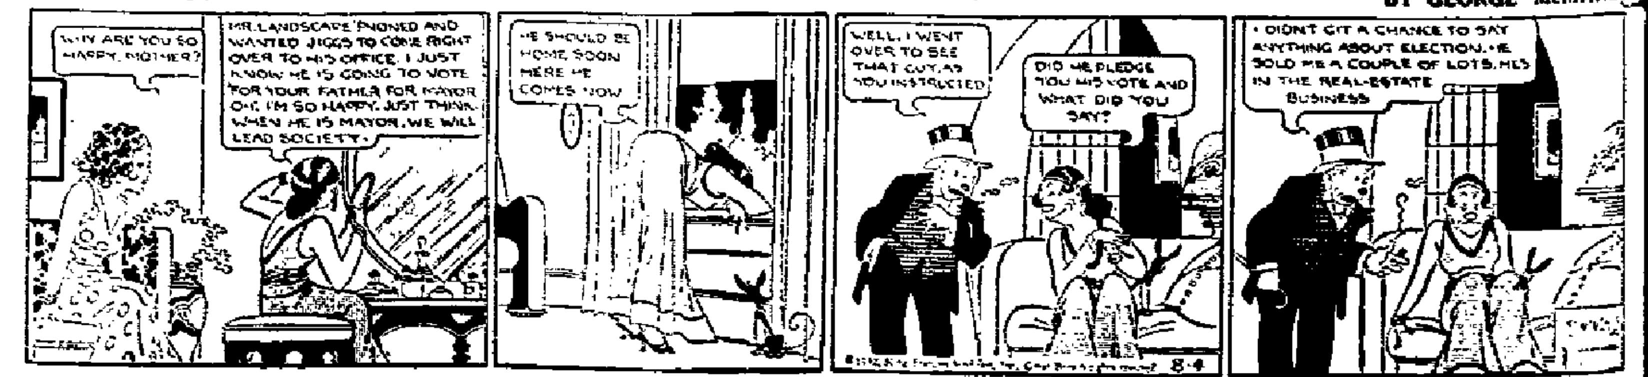
BY DARREL McCLURE



GEE, ZERO — AIN'T HE GRAND? HONEST, HE'S AWFUL SMART — AN' KIN HE DO TRICKS? = BETTER'N A PONY IN A CIRCUS — AN' I KIN SEE HE LIKES ME ALREADY — JUST LIKE I LIKE HIM!
I'M GOING TO LET NANCY RIDE HIM WHENEVER SHE LIKES — SHE'S SUCH A SWEET LITTLE KID — IT MAKES ME FEEL KINDA FUNNY TO OWN SUCH A GRAND PONY — WHEN NANCY AIN'T GOT NONE
GLORYOSKY, MR. BOB GAVE YOU A PONY, TOO!! HONEST, THAT MAKES ME GLAD ALL OVER — I GUESS MR. BOB IS THE SWELLEST GUY IN THE WHOLE WORLD!
8-4
NO, I CAN'T THINK OF A NAME FOR MY PONY — I'M A PRETTY GOOD CALF-NAMER — BUT IT'S AWFUL HARD TO FIND A NAME GOOD ENOUGH FOR SUCH A SWELL PONY!

BRINGING UP FATHER

BY GEORGE McMANUS



WHY ARE YOU SO HAPPY, MOTHER?
MR. LANDSCAPE PHONED AND WANTED JIGGS TO COME RIGHT OVER TO HIS OFFICE. I JUST KNOW HE IS GOING TO VOTE FOR YOUR FATHER FOR MAYOR. OH, I'M SO HAPPY. JUST THINK - WHEN HE IS MAYOR, WE WILL LEAD SOCIETY.
HE SHOULD BE HOME SOON HERE HE COMES NOW
WELL, I WENT OVER TO SEE THAT GUY, AS YOU INSTRUCTED DID HE PLEDGE YOU HIS VOTE AND WHAT DID YOU SAY?
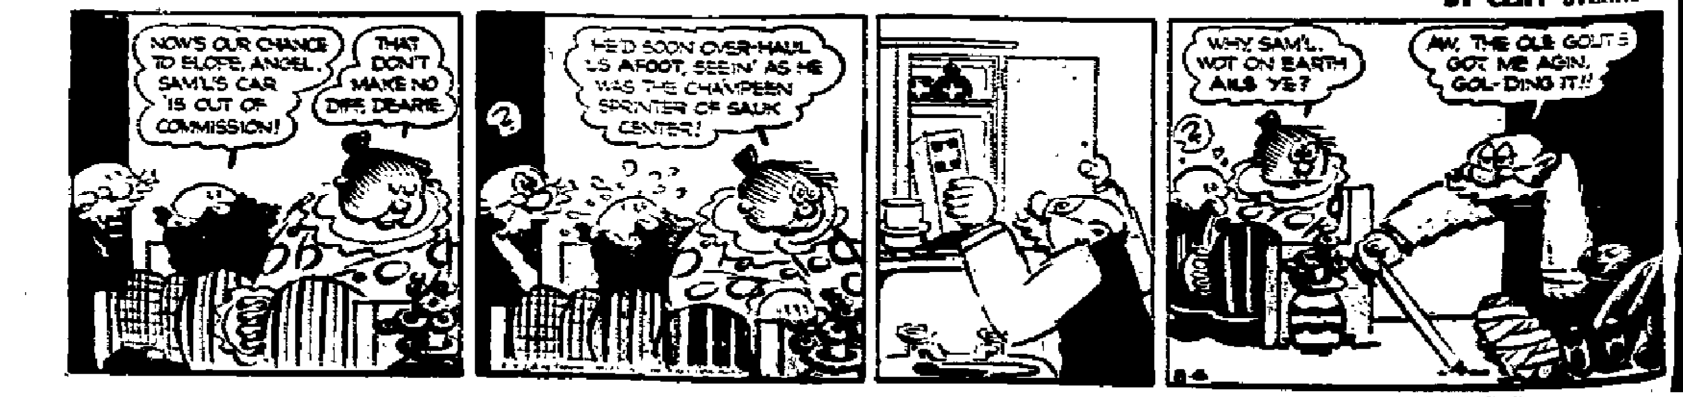
8-4
I DIDN'T GIT A CHANCE TO SAY ANYTHING ABOUT ELECTION. HE SOLD ME A COUPLE OF LOTS. HE'S IN THE REAL-ESTATE BUSINESS

POLLY AND HER PALS

BY CLIFF STERRETT



NOW'S OUR CHANCE TO ELOPE, ANGEL. SAM'L'S CAR IS OUT OF COMMISSION!
THAT DON'T MAKE NO DIFF, DEARIE
HE'D SOON OVER-HAUL US AFOOT, SEEIN' AS HE WAS THE CHAMPEEN SPRINTER OF SAUK CENTER!
WHY, SAM'L, WOT ON EARTH AILS YE?
AW, THE OLE GOUT'S GOT ME AGIN, GOL-DING IT!!

STOCKS SLIP IN LATE SALES

However, Market Holds Biggest Share of Brisk Early Advances.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK Aug 4—The bull market in stocks rolled up further impressive advances in the stock market today before the pressure of profit taking became great enough to bring a substantial set back.

Price averages at the peak of the rally indicated an appreciation in quoted value since the lows of a few weeks ago of about 80 per cent unprecedented in recent stock market history for a like period of time as profit taking was not surprising Extreme gains of 2 to 6 points in many issues were about cut in half as the list slipped off after the middle of the day

Allied Chemical shot up about 8 points then lost about half A 4 point rise carried American Telephone across par or about 10 points above the year's low but it slipped off a couple of points from the top U S Steel lost most of an extensive gain of more than 3 Standard of N J rose 2 points to 33¼ the highest price of 1932 before the afternoon sell off Miscellaneous issues up 2 or 3 points at the top included Santa Fe Union Pacific Dupont Drug American Water Works North American Case International Harvester American Can American Tobacco B Eastman Westinghouse Electric and others

The sweeping advance in shares since early July has surpassed even the expectations of the bulls and has evidently been greatly facilitated by efforts of the bears to fight the rise Many skeptical traders reading second quarter earnings statements showing many prominent corporations running far in the red were unable to foresee anything in the way of a sustained rally regardless of the market's technical position What took them off guard more than anything else apparently was the steady demand for American stocks which came from abroad after the Lausanne agreement and the end of the raid upon America's monetary gold stock The market therefore has been pushed up by successive waves of short covering almost from the start Brokerage loan figures nevertheless have indicated a substantial amount of good buying for cash.

The recent phases of the advance have been helped by growing bullishness on commodities notably wheat A number of miscellaneous staples have been creeping higher Today saw good gains in such items as rubber lead and in the Chicago market butter and eggs Copper was a little firmer quoted ⅛ cent higher at 5⅝ cents a pound in the domestic market which of course is still far below the average production costs

REACTION HITS GRAIN PRICES

Values Slump in Late Trading in Wave of Profit-Taking.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO Aug 4 Wheat prices reacted sharply late today after rising to 4¾ cents above yesterday's low point

Heavy profit taking sales developed in the last hour, and the big concentrated buying so much in evidence from eastern sources late yesterday, appeared to have faded out No new export business of consequence in North American wheat was revealed

Wheat and corn both closed irregular at ¼ decline to ¾ advance compared with yesterday's finish oats unchanged to a shade lower and provisions 5 to 10 cents up

Authoritative trade advices said deterioration of late sown domestic spring wheat crops had increased Last week's estimates were for 15 to 20 per cent reduction 25 per cent was reported as nothing unusual this week and likely to be nearer the final figures compared with the July 1 government forecast Bulls laid emphasis also on cables expressing anxiety about grain predictions for central Europe as further rains at this time would affect both the quality and quantity of continental crops Corn and oats rose with wheat

Provisions reflected strength of cereals despite downturns of hog values

SAVE WOOD, COAL, PHILLIANS URGES

Mayor Issues Second Plea in Effort To Remove Part of City's Burden.

With the cost of caring for the unemployed steadily rising but with no further light on the source of money for the purpose, Mayor W C Phillians has issued a second warning urging the conserving by the unemployed of wood and coal for use during the coming winter

In a warning issued by the mayor several weeks ago he urged that those anticipating help from the city in providing fuel for use this winter start at once to store wood and coal in order to assure their being provided with warmth this winter As the result of this warning the mayor said yesterday he had discovered on a tour of the city many places where railroad ties heavy branches from trees and wood from trees that had been cut down had been stored apparently for use this winter

The situation so far as money for relief purposes is concerned is extremely serious the mayor said yesterday

Italian architects have designed refrigerating station to accommodate that country's growing fruit and vegetable export trade of elliptical shape to provide long unloading galleries

BONUS ARMY READY FOR HOMEWARD TREK

Vets Huddle About Fires Awaiting Transportation from Johnstown.

By The Associated Press

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Aug. 4—Huddled silently about smoldering bonfires, their meager belongings tucked away in sacks and nondescript bundles, the bonus expeditionary force wanted to be taken home today.

Behind camp fire smoke screens Baltimore & Ohio trainmen sped preparations to move another trainload of men and their families.

California, Chicago, Kansas City and a part of the St. Louis contingent left during the night. Camp officers said between 900 and 1100 men left on a 14-car special train but other observers estimated not more than 500 men were on the train when it pulled out.

The Johnstown chamber of commerce issued a statement last night that it had made arrangements to finance the exodus of all visiting veterans from this locality. The chamber refused to name the source from which the funds were received but the Associated Press learned the Bethlehem Steel company which had a large plant here has agreed to pay for the special trains.

CITY BRIEFS

Theft Reported—G. E. Morrow of 145 Dix avenue reported the theft of six white rabbits to the police late yesterday afternoon. The rabbits, he said, had been taken from a pen at his home some time Tuesday night.

Lodge Confers Degree—The entered apprentice degree was conferred by Sojourner's Lodge No. 653, F. and A. M. last night at Masonic temple. The degree will be conferred again at a special meeting Aug. 10, with an out-of-town lodge in charge of the degree work.

Funeral Today—The funeral of Mrs. Minnie V. Taylor of 188 John street who died Monday noon, was conducted today at 2 p. m. at the Schaffner-Queen funeral home on East Center street. Rev. Robert W. Hucke of the First Reformed church officiated. Burial was made in the Brush Ridge cemetery.

Enters Hospital—Mrs. M. C. Fitts of Prospect, R. F. D. No. 3, was received yesterday at City hospital for an abdominal operation this morning.

Again in Hospital—Mrs. Hobert Luckett of 151 Gladd street who received treatment at City hospital last week, was readmitted for treatment today.

Condition Serious—Mrs. John Roseberry of 312 South High street was admitted to City hospital last night. Her condition was such today that no schedule had been made for an operation for appendicitis, with which she is suffering. She is reported to be in a serious condition.

Improving—The condition of Mrs. William Cleveland of Agosta was reported as improved this morning at City hospital. Mrs. Cleveland was injured in an automobile accident Monday night near Agosta.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont.—When Harry Quesnelle's collie dog strayed, he traced it to the home of a farmer. The farmer's wife, however, had become so attached to the stray that she offered Quesnelle a cow in exchange. Quesnelle accepted her terms and the cow.

MAGNETIC SPRINGS RESIDENT CLAIMED

James Cameron, 77, Accomplished Musician, Dies

RICHWOOD, Aug. 4—A complication of diseases from which he had been ill for the last six weeks caused the death of James Cameron, 77, at his home in Magnetic Springs at 5 a. m. today. Mr. Cameron was a lifelong resident of Magnetic Springs. He was an accomplished musician.

He was born in Magnetic Springs July 21, 1855, the son of Coreyne and Susan Cochran Cameron and was married in 1881 to Miss Belle McComb who died in 1904.

The only surviving relatives are two cousins, Mrs. LeRoy Scott and Mrs. William Ferguson, both of Magnetic Springs. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday at the Winter & Son funeral home in Richwood. The rites will be conducted by Rev. Kimbell of Magnetic Springs and burial will be made in the Claiborne cemetery at Richwood.

BOLIVIA, PARAGUAY OK PLAN FOR PEACE

Both Countries, However, Prepare for War over Disputed Territory.

By The Associated Press

Bolivia and Paraguay gave their approval today to international moves for peaceful settlement of the Chaco controversy, but they prepared for war.

Dispatches from Perico, Argentina, a town on the Bolivian border, quoted a Bolivian commander as saying 11,000 troops would be in the Chaco in the next few days. Bolivia now has 6,000 men there, he said.

In La Paz it was said the government would raise serious objections to several clauses of the note sent by the United States and nineteen South and Central American nations yesterday, in which a warning was given that any territorial gains made by armed force would not be recognized.

Paraguay informed the League of Nations it was willing to arbitrate and Bolivia, in its note to the League, said it "did not decline" offers of a peaceful settlement.

The Chaco itself was reported quiet.

THREE STATE DRY AGENTS DISMISSED

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 4—Three state dry agents have been dismissed due to a lack of funds. State Prohibition Commissioner Edmund Mathews announced today. The reduction of the force was made necessary, he said, after Governor George White had ordered a five per cent reduction in operating expenses of all state departments.

Carl Mulcahy of Lima, who is under indictment in Crawford county along with W. W. Durbin of Kenton on charges of attempted blackmail and attempted bribery in connection with Durbin's activities preceding the primary election last May, was one of the three dismissed. Mulcahy has been under suspension since the indictment.

The other two agents dismissed were John M. Jenkins of Ironton and Herbert Teal of New Straitsville.

Bonus Marchers Are Given Lift Through County

Three bonus marchers returning from Washington, D. C., to their homes in Detroit in an almost exhausted condition were befriended yesterday by deputies of Sheriff C. C. Fye.

The "marchers" were driven to Marion by Sheriff Velle Main of Delaware county. The deputies, who had arranged to take them to Upper Sandusky, took the marchers to a restaurant and purchased meals for them. Later the marchers were taken to Upper Sandusky where Sheriff Weatherholtz met them and drove them to Findley.

The deputies reported that 30 marchers passed through Upper Sandusky on the Lincoln highway yesterday on way to their homes.

Communities All Striving To Keep Within Reduced Tax Budgets.

waked up in time. Officials now believe the end of the year will find them within their budgets.

A tax rate of 25.4 mills is in prospect for Akron property owners in 1933 as compared to a 28.3 in 1932, due to drastic budget slashing of the city and schools and Summit county. Akron's "tax relief" will be accomplished through savings of $4,000,000 in city school and county operations.

Offices Merged

One-week vacations without pay were presented Cincinnati's city employes, and certain city offices were consolidated or eliminated, salaries were cut where possible and the city wound up with a 1933 budget of $15,961,896 as against $16,186,379 for 1932. The Hamilton county budget has been cut $737,037 from 1932.

Mansfield's city budget has undergone a thorough scaling down, but the city still will not neglect relief. The city asks $26,065 for relief purposes, as compared with $11,000 in 1932. Richland county asks less by $204,356.45 for 1933 over 1932.

A great part of Mansfield and Richland county savings will be made through reduced park maintenance funds, street paving and bridge and viaduct repairs.

Faced with the task of attempting to absorb a deficit of $235,000 in the 1931 budget, Columbus has little hope of finishing its fiscal year in December without an even greater deficit. All salaries have been cut, some offices have been eliminated entirely and others combined in reducing current expenses.

FIVE APPLICATIONS RECEIVED BY LODGE

Five applications for membership were received by Buckeye Aerie No. 337, F. O. E. last night at the Eagles temple. John Abel, secretary, is in Detroit, Mich., where he will attend the grand aerie convention which opens Sunday. He will return to Marion Saturday, Aug. 10.

Lodge will not meet Wednesday night. The next meeting will be in two weeks. Three candidates for membership were balloted on last night.

60,000 SIGNATURES FILED.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 4 — Sixty thousand of the 120,000 signatures needed to place a county home rule amendment on the November ballot have been filed. Charles P. Taft 2nd, chairman of the County Home Rule association, said yesterday. He said 30,000 signatures obtained in Cuyahoga county were yet to be filed as were those of other large counties.

NEW COMMERCE HEAD CONFIDENT OF FUTURE

Chapin Optimistic as He Is Named Successor to Lamont.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 — Roy Dikeman Chapin of Detroit, a business man undaunted by trade barriers and cheered by the rainbow hues of recent developments, is going to take over very soon the huge machine that is trying harder than ever to help American manufacturers sell their goods.

Next week he will succeed as secretary of commerce, Robert Patterson Lamont, whose resignation President Hoover accepted with "regret" and because he felt the cabinet member ought to be allowed to go to work for himself again.

Chapin, informed at a conference with President Hoover that he would be named to head the commerce department, left the announcement of his appointment to the White House.

Mr. Hoover said Lamont recently had occupied his post "at great sacrifice" and that "his abilities and service have commended the respect and confidence of the entire country." Chapin's appointment he announced with "pleasure."

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 4—Close friends of Robert P. Lamont, whose resignation as secretary of commerce was accepted yesterday by President Hoover, tonight said they understood he expected to take a position with a New York firm.

They said many of Lamont's securities had depreciated greatly in value.

Move To Permit Tax Collection by Installment

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 4—Ohio's revenue laws would be revamped to permit farmers and home-owners to pay their taxes monthly instead of semi-annually under a plan before Governor George White today.

Acting on a resolution introduced by its chairman, Walter G. Nickels of New Philadelphia, the state senate committee on economy asked the governor to recommend such changes to the legislature when it convenes in special session next month to consider salary reductions and other means of lowering public expenditures.

The resolution was adopted yesterday when the senate committee held a joint meeting with Governor White's economy committee in preparation for public hearings opening today.

Holding that semi-annual payments worked hardships on many citizens, the resolution stated that the collection of current taxes would be expedited by a change to a monthly installment plan. The resolution listed figures to show that delinquent taxes now amount to $100,000,000 and that many counties were collecting only 50 per cent of current taxes under the present system.

him on a murder charge. The maximum penalty is life imprisonment.

Tell-tale scratches on the 31-year-old recluse's face led to his arrest, police said. His confession declared he waylaid the young farm girl Saturday night along a lonely road and killed her in anger when she repulsed his advances. He denied assaulting her.

Nash's signed statement, made to state and county police, said he met Evelyn near the edge of a swamp, and attempted to put his arm around her. She slapped him.

He struck her with his fist, the confession said, and she fell unconscious to the roadway. Then he rolled her body down an embankment and returned to his home for some rope and a gunnysack. He could detect no heart action in the girl he said but to make death certain tied a length of rope tightly around her neck. The post mortem examination disclosed that the rope caused her death.

coroner, $325, a decrease of $25. The estimate of the needs of the prosecuting attorney's office is $3,475, the same as this year.

Some Show Increases

The mothers' pension fund remains the same at $8,000.

A number of funds show increases. They are, with the amount asked for 1933 and the amount of increase over 1932: road and bridge fund, $80,000, an increase of $18,000; soldiers' relief and burial fund, $4,930, an increase of $3,810, assessing personal property and appraising real estate, $3,100, an increase of $1,100, county home, $24,000, an increase of $940, blind relief, $6,800, an increase of $900; municipal court and police, $2,400, an increase of $250, common pleas court, $11,300; an increase of $100.

Another increase occurs in the road and bridge fund, which has requested a total of $80,000, the estimated amount the gasoline tax and automobile license fees will produce for this county. This figure is $18,000 more than the corresponding estimate for 1932, but part of it may be diverted into the bond retirement fund, under a section of recently enacted law. Thus, the entire $18,000 increase may not be spent entirely on roads and bridges, but may be spent partially for bond retirement purposes.

An item known as miscellaneous expense in the 1932 budget has been expanded in the 1933 budget to include maintenance of prisoners in workhouses, care of tubercular patients, and considerable charity. The incorporation of these items into the miscellaneous fund has necessitated increasing the amount asked for this fund from $1,200 in 1932 to $17,170 in 1933. The same rearrangement of funds has resulted in a decrease from $35,000 in the item for charity in 1932 to $9,000 in 1933, although the amount available for charity expenditure will be almost the same as last year.

AMAZING RELIEF!!
MRS. DORA WATT
946 North Main St.,
Marion, O., writes:
"Ten years ago I passed through a serious abdominal operation, with but little relief. I have continued to suffer from a complication of disorders and until I started with ZO-RO-LO was in despair.
"I suffered with severe headaches, was extremely nervous, and my system was so filled with poisons that I was very jaundiced. I also suffered from Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism, Varicose Veins, and my hearing was seriously affected and gave me much trouble.
"It is needless to say that I tried many remedies, but since taking ZO-RO-LO, I have found real relief from all these disorders. My skin is clear from jaundice and all other conditions are greatly improved. I am continuing with the treatment and desire to recommend this great remedy to all."

CITY LIBRARY SHOWS HIGHER INCREASE

605 More Volumes Read Last Month: 15 New Books Are Added.

Circulation of books at the Marion City library increased 605 volumes last month over the same month a year ago a report shows.

The steady increase which the circulation has shown within the last months is due to lack of employment, library officials believe. Persons who have never before enjoyed the privileges of the library now spend whole afternoons in the reading rooms and are now regular borrowers from the library shelves.

Fifteen new books were added to the shelves, 12 by purchase and three by gift. The total number of volumes in the library is now 17,654, of which 13,608 are adult reading and 4,036 are juvenile.

The total circulation for July was 12,479 volumes of which 9,273 were adult and 3,206 were juvenile.

Thirteen of the new books at the library are adult fiction and two are heavier adult reading matter. During the month 40 volumes were withdrawn from circulation and 128 books were mended.

On the first of July the library had 7,006 borrowers, 4,611 of which were adult and 2,385 were juvenile. During the month 106 adults and 65 juveniles became borrowers. In the same period 84 adults and 139 juveniles withdrew their borrowing privileges, leaving a total of 6,931 borrowers at the end of the month.

CHILDREN GUESTS AT BAND CONCERT

Children at the Marion County children's home enjoyed two treats last night when members of the municipal band gave a concert at the home and a treat of ice cream was supplied by the Isaly Dairy Co. The concert given at the home, John Muntsinger, band manager said today, was the same as will be given from the court house steps Saturday night.

lake; to the south the great exposition, celebrating a century of science, that will open next spring, and to the north, the "Gold Coast," where Mrs. Potter Palmer built her house, when the world was young, and every one, with ten millions or more, builds or will build.

Any nation that has created this Middle West, since the big fire, will not let any depression discourage it.

JOSEPH UIHLEIN, present head of the well known Milwaukee family, on the way to the St. Paul station, points out a corner lot: "My father told me to buy that corner, long ago. I thought the price too high, but he said, 'Go and buy it, I told you, son.' So I bought it for one hundred and forty-five thousand dollars from the church vestry that owned it, and thought I paid too much. Long since, we sold it for one million six hundred thousand dollars to the crowd that built that 30-story hotel on it."

That is how things have been going in America, and that is how they will go again. And you need faith in your country and its people, no bigger than a grain of mustard seed, to believe it.

To share in the prosperity coming you must have something to invest. Martin Luther, as Mr. Uihlein reminds you, gave good advice in his Lebensregeln—"Rules of Life."

First he tells you to trust firmly in God—Zuerst vertrau auf Gott recht fest—then reminds you that you must save money, which he calls the greatest lever in the world—Spar' das geld, den groesten hebel in der welt.

MANY BELIVE that when work starts throughout the country, with old-time energy, there will be, for a time, lower wages, in all directions low enough to tempt investment by employers, with reasonably certain profits on the investment. Even in Russia, labor cannot hire itself. That would require real cooperation, and the world is several centuries removed from anything of that kind. Selfishness will long remain the world's chief mainspring.

Already the change is seen. Farmers can hire good workers for $20 to $25 a month and board. In Wisconsin unskilled labor is abundant at 20 cents an hour.

Lower wages necessarily mean slower recovery of old-fashioned prosperity. It is not the bosses' profits but the spending of workers' earnings that create good times.

MAN PROPOSES and heaven disposes. Samuel Insull built for Chicago an opera house that for grandeur would make Babylon's hanging gardens look like a back yard in a small town.

It is a skyscraper opera house, of course, and Chicago's opera, plus Chicago's gold and love of music, were to make Chicago the center for great artists, and big pay.

But the depression came, like the simoon or ouragan, and Chicago's opera plan folded up gently. Now the plan is to have grand opera at vaudeville prices, artists to take, for pay, their share of the receipts.

That need not mean inferior music. The nightingale and the American hermit thrush sing their best with no charge. Low pay will develop new and perhaps better singers. There was a time in his career when Caruso would have been glad to get $3 a night, a time when you could have hired both De Reszkes for $2.50 each.

REOPEN GOLD MINES

By International News Service

VIENNA—Reopening of the gold mines in the Tauern mountains of Austria, worked for a period in the middle ages, is planned for the near future. It is estimated that the reserves are about 26,000,000 tons. Gold values range from 15.9 grams to 60 grams a ton.

EMPLOYES DISCARD 5-DAY WEEK PLAN

State Workers Find Salary Loss Would Be Too Great.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, Aug 4. The proposal for a five day week as a means of reducing state governmental expenses was thrown into the discard today by the Ohio state employes association when they discovered that it means a much greater salary reduction for them than is contemplated by joint legislative and executive committees studying plans for economy.

The state employes group discovered that their five-day week plan would result in an annual salary saving to the state of approximately $2,000,000 whereas proposals for salary reductions on a graduated percentage basis contemplate annual saving of only about $1,500,000.

The five-day week plan members of the economy committees pointed out also would work a much greater hardship on the lower salaried employe than on the higher salaried one.

LONDON EXCHANGE HEAVILY GUARDED

By United Press

LONDON. One of the most heavily guarded buildings in London is the stock exchange. Three watchmen every night patrol the exchange's entire roof area, others pace the surrounding streets and the guards inside the building are heavily armed.

Reason: the average value of the securities stored in the vaults is estimated at $500,000,000.

NOTICE

OF MAKING A PUBLIC ROAD IMPROVEMENT AND OF HEARING OBJECTIONS AND CLAIMS FOR DAMAGES AND COMPENSATION AND ESTIMATED ASSESSMENTS.

General Code, Sec 6926

To whom it may concern:

Notice is hereby given that the Joint Board of County Commissioners of Morrow and Marion Counties, Ohio have heretofore on the 26th day of July 1932 adopted a Resolution declaring the necessity of the improving of a part of the public road known as the HINDMAN JOINT COUNTY ROAD, Washington Township, Morrow County, Ohio.

Beginning at the intersection of the Marion Galion road (I C H No 111) and the Hindman Road (C H 31), Range 21, Township 17, in Washington Township, Morrow County, Ohio, thence running along said road No 31 in a northwesterly direction to and ending at the line between Morrow and Marion Counties, a distance of approximately three fourths (3/4) mile.

Copies of the surveys, plans, estimates of costs and specifications for said improvement together with estimated assessments upon the lands benefited by such improvement for the proportion of the cost thereof to be assessed thereon are on file in the office of the Morrow County Commissioners for the inspection and examination of all persons interested herein.

The 18th day of August 1932, at 9:30 A M, at the office of the County Commissioners in the Morrow County Court House at Mt Gilead, Ohio is the time and place fixed for hearing claims for damages sustained on account thereof and for the presentation to the Joint Board of County Commissioners of claims for compensation for land or property to be taken and damages accruing to any lands on account of said improvement and for hearing on the same.

Unless such claims are filed in writing with said Joint Board of Commissioners on or before the time fixed for hearing claims the same shall be waived except as to minors and other persons under disability.

By order of Morrow and Marion County Commissioners.

Per W V DIRKS
Clerk of Joint Board

Sore Spot.

The festering dispute over rights in South America's Gran Chaco has reached the point of acute inflammation again, with Bolivia and Paraguay each mobilizing troops and marching them off to a "just war." The League of Nations, deeply concerned with the possibility of bloody strife between two members on its list of adherents, is protesting desperately. Great nations are trying to determine their most profitable attitudes. The complete pattern of war in this day when nations are trying to outlaw war is being sketched with the rapidity characteristic of martial action.

Bolivia and Paraguay are willing to sacrifice everything for their "rights." So were Japan and China. So were the United Powers and the Allies. It is a homely, but sound, aphorism that "there never has been an unjust war." Also, there never has been an offensive war. Both Bolivia and Paraguay are mobilizing their manhood for defensive purposes—to protect what belongs to them.

The world never has been able to decide who should be in possession of the Gran Chaco, though it is represented on most maps in the Bolivian area. Claims to the region antedate the period of South American Independence from Spain; the probable source of the trouble is the hastily designated land grants made by the Spanish crown. In 1879, 1887 and 1894 treaties concerning it were signed, but none of them was ratified.

In 1927 attempts of an arbitration commission to settle the matter were unsuccessful; a similar fate met the attempts of the Pan American Arbitration conference to settle the differences in 1929. In 1931 there was an outburst of feeling and now the trouble is acute again. When it is considered that the territory in dispute is larger than all of Paraguay, that it is potentially very valuable and that Bolivia is determined to get the water rights that go with it, the prospect for a war waged against the protests of the rest of the world are at least as good as they were when the Japanese marched into Manchuria. Nations have at their command no power great enough to stop or even to delay the development of a "just war."

Lady Saver.

Sir Walter Raleigh bridging a mud puddle with his cloak was no more romantic a figure than is Senator Huey Long gracing the stumps of Arkansas in behalf of Hattie W. Caraway. There may be a slight difference in motives, however. If anything, and if possible, those of Senator Long are slightly more ulterior.

Another senator comes into the picture prominently. He is Joe T. Robinson, who has found that Louisiana's kingfish doesn't yield readily to the particular kind of leadership exerted for the benefit of senate Democrats. Some of the most acrimonious passages of the Congressional Record are debates between these two gentlemen.

Mrs. Caraway, with nothing in sight to prevent her from becoming the nation's first woman senator elected for a full term, needed a friend. Senator Long, arch enemy of authority as constituted in the person of Senator Robinson, needed an opportunity to state his case. What more natural, then, than Senator Long in Arkansas telling audiences that Mrs. Caraway is "the only representative you've got in the senate who can be depended upon to vote for the rights of the common people." No one has forgotten the embarrassing evidence of Senator Robinson's huge corporation law practice offered to the senate last session.

It is unfortunate that the first woman to enter the senate by the popular will should appear to be under the gesticulating arm of a Huey Long, who, for all his apparent sincerity in befriending her, is known to have a dull ax to grind. Quiet little Mrs. Caraway is missing a great opportunity to demonstrate that the first active woman senator is capable of standing on her own feet.

Jimmy on the Ice.

Mayor Walker's intention of becoming a candidate for governor of New York if removed from his present office conjures up a lively scene in the imagination—Jimmy On The Ice, after the action made famous by Eliza and the bloodhounds.

Standing on the shore behind him are stern Marse Seabury and the irritable curs who persist in yapping about honest government. On a teetering cake a few feet from shore is the mayor, himself, simulating terror like a good trooper.

The action from this point on, however, is going to be different. The fugitive is not going to seek freedom on the other shore. He is going to try to make a bargain. Unless Marse Seabury calls off the dogs he is going to jump into a passing boat—the governorship. This boat, a frail enough craft for fair weather navigation, is barely holding up under the load of its occupant, one Herbert Lehman, now lieutenant-governor of New York and believed to be the destined successor of Governor Roosevelt.

Sketched in the background of this tense scene is Tammany hall. It is deserted, to all appearances. But the actors know what to expect from it. If the mayor falters in his lines or gets the business mixed up that's where his cue will come from. At present there seems to be some confusion behind the scenes. Some one is heard to say that if the mayor jumps the whole play will be a failure; the boat won't stand the strain. And some one else argues that the play is out of control; that Marse Seabury's irritable curs won't listen to reason; that the mayor can't turn back.

It's a delightful bit of drama from the standpoint of political drama. Reports say that New York Republicans haven't enjoyed anything so much in years. If the mayor jumps, they predict that they will carry New York state. And if he doesn't he is going to follow many another Tammany man way down into oblivion. Truly a tense situation.

Relief for Real Estate.

Vague consciousness of grave defects in the taxation systems employed by various taxing powers has crept upon the American people during the last few years. They are investigating new methods, discussing new ideas; important reforms are in the offing.

There is a publicly motivated trend away from use of that overworked horse of taxation—real estate. Unimportant as yet, it is beginning to take on a quality of inflexibility which will get results. The democracy may falter in many ways, but an overwhelming will of the people can not be denied indefinitely. Real estate is destined to lose its position as the beast of burden in state and local taxation.

To what quarter, then, will the burden be shifted? An answer is being sought eagerly by scores of taxation experts. Their investigations, obviously, are restricted severely by the ever-present necessity of keeping up a flow of revenue sufficient to care for the needs of government. Their problem is to build a new structure without injuring the old structure.

They have turned, generally, to income and consumption taxes, the first covering the field of intangibles into which this state has entered only recently. They have aimed at productive wealth and spending in their attempt to bring relief to that distressed individual, the home owner. His investment is unproductive; taxation represents seizure of his capital, which is a penalty he can not stand when his earning power is diminished and the convertible value of his property is disappearing.

The whole picture is too vast to comprehend, with local, state and the national government competing with one another for the largest share of taxation. It can be viewed only in long perspective and even then it is confusing. However, there is one feature that should not be overlooked.

It is the increasing attractiveness of taxation levied upon consumption of luxuries and conventional necessities. In this classification belong gasoline and tobacco, two of the richest revenue producers available. They are not so important, however, as the principle which has made them of use. That principle is the productivity of consumption taxation.

As the necessity for broadening the basis of taxation for the double purpose of fairness to taxpayers and dependability of return becomes more and more obvious the consumption tax, whose ultimate development is the general sales tax, becomes more attractive. Various states are trying it. Thinly disguised as a list of nuisance taxes it is in use by the federal government. The next session of congress will consider it seriously. "If Americans keep their heads and consider facts rather than arguments there will be, sooner or later public conviction in favor of a general sales tax that will make its adoption unavoidable.

Income taxation probably will be retained, in a refined form, if only for social purposes. Its productivity, as demonstrated in the last two years, is not dependable. Expenses of government, despite public protest, are not capable of being lowered quickly. To meet them there must be a system of taxation which will not break up quickly under the pressure of hard times. Such a system exists in the sales tax.

Comment of the Press

LET EVERYONE HELP.

"No partisanship, no favoritism, no sectionalism," Chairman Pomerene of the board of the R. F. C. declares will mark the policy of the great credit organization he was recently appointed to head.

"It is the duty, not only of the great interests, but of every man and woman to push on together and in due time we shall reap our reward," the Cleveland man continues in his initial statement as chairman. Thus by general co-operation the problems of reconstruction will finally be solved, and the economic crisis lived down.

It is a modest pronouncement which becomes the former Ohio senator. The R. F. C. is not expected, at least not by its chairman, to achieve any sudden miracles. Hard work lies ahead for everyone; the corporation will lead and use its great power to bring back sound conditions, but it can do little single-handed.

Mr. Pomerene takes the sensible view. There should be a widespread public response to the invitation he extends.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

INDOMITABLE SCIENCE.

Fifty years ago Professor Richard T. Ely was teaching political economy at Johns Hopkins University. Among his promising students was a young man of the name of Woodrow Wilson. At a later period that particular studious delver into affairs of government, by virtue of Professor Ely's teachings or of other stimulating influences, made a considerable stir in the world. Then at a ripe old age he passed from the scene. The eminent economist who was his teacher continued his labors.

Statesmen of presidential caliber have been somewhat scarce of late, despite the best efforts of Professor Ely and other men of academic learning properly to instruct the newer generation. That, one may assume, naturally has been a source of distress to the gifted educator who helped to formulate the ideas on government held by the American war President. However, it is difficult, if not impossible, to discourage the scientific mind.

Now Professor Ely, at the age of 78, announces the birth of a bouncing son. If the eminent economist's patriotic devotion and inspired foresight are rewarded as they deserve to be, the American public somewhere about the year 1952 may look hopefully for a scientific trained and otherwise exceptionally equipped aspirant to the Presidency.—Chicago News.

SEVEN SHIPS ARE SEVEN MORE.

The present state of American shipbuilding is emphasized by the fact that seven vessels now on the ways in the Philadelphia area give this district fifty-five per cent of the total tonnage under construction in the United States. These seven vessels total 104,[illegible] tons. The country's total is about 200,000 tons, the figures in both cases being for ships of 500 tons or more.

Compared with American ship-building from 1918 to 1922, this is little more than a pittance. In those years the annual tonnage was from 1,300,000 to 3,525,000. But in 1915 the total was approximately the same as now, with only 225,000 tons for all sizes. And the current year's figure compares well with the average since 1922, which has been about 250,000 a year for all sizes. Last year it rose to 288,[illegible], but in 1922 it was down to 128,974. Considering the present state of commerce even 200,000 tons of new ships represent a sizable production.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Daily Guide to Health

BY DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND.

Trachoma, a Highly Contagious Disease.

Stubborn inflammation of the eyelids, usually spoken of as "granulated eyelids," is not at all uncommon, and there is one form of this disorder, called "trachoma," which is contagious.

Trachoma is found in persons dwelling under unsanitary conditions. It is prevalent in China, Japan, Egypt and Russia, is seen in the southern and midwestern parts of this country, and is very common among American Indians. Since the disease is highly contagious, all immigrants are carefully examined for it before they are permitted to enter this country.

Trachoma begins with a mild itching and burning of the eyes. The eyes water and the afflicted person believes there is some foreign substance in the eye. Indeed in many cases the disturbance follows exposure to dust, sand or wind. As the disease progresses the eyelids become red and thickened. Sunshine, bright lights and exposure to wind produce intense pain.

If the condition is not treated a cloudiness forms over the eyeball that interferes with the vision. Scars that form on the inner edge of the lids pull the edges of the lids inward and cause the eyelashes to rub and scratch the eyeball. This is extremely painful.

Infection is quickly spread from one individual to another, carried on fingers, handkerchiefs or towels, or by direct contact with discharges from an infected eye. Persons suffering from trachoma must protect others by being extremely careful about the discharges from their eyes, and they should sleep alone.

Bed clothing and linens used by infected persons should be kept separately and thoroughly sterilized before being used by other members of the family. A safe plan is to burn or boil all handkerchiefs and all linens that have been used on infected eyes. Children afflicted with trachoma should not be permitted to attend school until cured.

The disease does not occur where hygiene, sanitation, fresh air and sunlight prevail. Good food, personal cleanliness, proper education and training in the care of the eyes will help to prevent this highly contagious and serious menace to humanity.

Too often the symptoms of trachoma are looked upon merely as due to a passing irritation or cold, and although home remedies fail, medical advice is delayed until the disease has reached a serious stage. This is too bad, because many cases of neglected trachoma result in partial or complete blindness.

If you have granulated eyelids or chronic sore eyes, consult with your physician. Bear in mind that neglect is dangerous, and that trachoma can be cured only by persistent and faithful medical attention.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

H.L.S. Q.—What should a woman aged 45, 5 feet 6½ inches tall, weigh?

A.—She should weigh about 149 pounds. This is the average weight for a woman of this age and height, as determined by examination of a large number of persons. A few pounds above or below the average is a matter of little or no significance.

L.E.F. Q.—What do you advise for scars left by pimples?

A.—To make the scars less noticeable, apply hot and cold compresses alternately for ten minutes night and morning. X-ray is also helpful.—Copyright, 1932, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Glimpses of the Past

TEN YEARS AGO.

It was Friday, Aug. 4, 1922.

Washington news reports hinted at the possibility of a gigantic trade war between Henry Ford and the industrial trusts of America following action of seven members of the senate agricultural committee in recommending absolute acceptance by the senate of Ford's offer for development of the government's $200,000,000 nitrate and water power project at Muscle Shoals, Ala.

Fire believed to have been due to spontaneous combustion destroyed six buildings at the state fairgrounds resulting in an estimated loss of $600,000. Five Columbus firemen were injured.

Mrs. Harry Poe, 48, died at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Rose Walkins on West Center street after a two years' illness.

Lemuel Langstaff, 83, Civil war veteran, died at the home of his niece, Mrs. Fay White in Richwood.

Long distance telephone service out of the exchange of the Marion County Telephone Co. was suspended for one minute in the afternoon in honor of the memory of Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, who had died Wednesday.

Miss Marian Gilmore was hostess to members of the P. D. Q. club at the home of her aunt, Mrs. John Evans on West Center street.

The children and grandchildren of Jacob Thibaut gave a surprise party for him at his home west of Waldo in celebration of his sixty-third birthday anniversary.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

It was Sunday, Aug. 4, 1912.

A report from Tannersville, N. Y., the place where New York City detectives and other officers were centering their search for men accused of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, New York gambler, indicated that the suspects had slipped through the police lines and that the hunt was over as far as that section of the state was concerned.

Mrs. William Knapp and children of New York City, who had been visiting relatives here, went to Bucyrus to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Guthrie.

The Marion Trolley league baseball team defeated Delaware in both games of a double-header played here. The scores were 5-0 and 13-0. Young pitched the first game for Marion and Shawan and Shrock the second game.

Miss Bertha Ruth Henry of Prospect and George M. Nixon of Philadelphia were united in marriage by Rev. A. J. Woodworth at the Prospect Baptist church parsonage.

Misses Twila and Estella Priester gave a 6 o'clock dinner at their home on Campbell street in honor of Miss Rose Daurst of Dayton.

The Marion Central Ohio league baseball team was defeated at Shelby by a score of 3-0. Cochran and Frantz were the battery for Marion.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Nulk entertained a company of friends at their home on West Columbia street in honor of their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Marshall and James Nugent of Dayton.

Strange but True

A 17-foot model of a dirigible balloon is being tested at an airport near Washington, D. C., to ascertain if it is any better than wind cones in indicating wind direction and force.

Porto Rico has enacted a law prohibiting the sale, storage or transportation of adulterated, misbranded, poisonous or deleterious foods, drugs or medicines.

Three pipe lines, each several hundred miles in length, are planned by oil companies in eastern states to carry gasoline from refineries to marketing centers at less than present cost.

A telephone service has been established in the Netherlands that permits business men to participate in conferences with from three to six persons in different cities at the same time.

Shanghai contains about 25,000 Russians, an equal number of Japanese, close to 8,000 British, 4,000 Americans, 2,000 Germans, 1,500 French and approximately 2,000 other foreign residents.

American cigarets are exported to more than 100 countries, 81 per cent of the foreign sales going to China, the Philippines, Panama, British Malaya and France.

With the Inventors

A machine for dusting cotton plants with an insecticide has been invented that can cover 60 rows at a time treating 25 acres an hour.

An electric torch for brazing, welding and hard soldering has been invented that can be operated from a light socket, its power consumption being variable.

A threadless brass connection has been invented for making water tight joints in copper pipes, solder being used in shallow grooves inside each opening.

Gaskets made of copper and asbestos have been invented to prevent [illegible] meters overheating by preventing the passage of heat from [illegible].

Highlights of Ohio History

BY J. H. GALBRAITH

WASEON—WAUSEON.

Wauseon, seat of Fulton county, was named after a noted Indian of the Ottawas, living in the Maumee valley, though he spelled his name without the "u." He was one of four half-brothers—all sons of Chief Otosah, but by different mothers.

These four sons were, besides Waseon, Ottokee, Nawash and Wasaonquet. All were large and fine looking, with a gift of oratory like their father. Ottokee was six feet tall and weighed 200 pounds. When speaking, his pose is said to have been as dignified and noble as that of Clay or Webster in congress. Waseon had a large frame though he did not weigh as much as Ottokee. Neither was he as eloquent, but his judgment was keen and his reasoning fine.

Waseon and his three brothers were raised in their father's home in which their four mothers were living at the same time—polygamy being quite generally practiced by these tribes.

Waseon is said to mean in the Indian language "Far Off."

One of his other brothers was named Nawash meaning "[illegible]." The meanings of the names of the other two, if they had any, is not known.

New York Day by Day

BY O. O. McINTYRE.

New York, Aug. 4 — A neatly dressed lady, with star-clear eyes and obvious culture, stopped me on East 46th street this morning, wondering if I might be interested in a spot remover she had discovered. She had no money to hire an office and was barred from canvassing in apartments and office buildings.

So she decided to accost people along the street, secure their orders and deliver purchases. She was unembarrassed. Five years ago she was graduated from Vassar. The family fortunes recently tumbled. Her plight is not at all exceptional but typical of the times.

Everywhere are touching evidences of a city-wide humility. Housewives who used to send servants in the family limousines now walk forth with their baskets. The doorman of a Park avenue hotel is a graduate of Heidelberg and is invited to Social Register homes.

For many years, no matter the vicissitudes, it was the New York custom to "put up a front." The new credo is: "Be yourself." An ice-sheathed lady who long affected a superiority, has become an aisle manager in a department store. "My trouble," she said, "was looking at the world through a lorgnette."

A grinning red-cap at a railroad terminal, submitting to two cuts in salary, recently took a third. "It's all right," he agreed. "Just so they don't begin charging me admission."

* * *

And Ray Long, after listening to crepe hangers at a luncheon, wagged his head and gloomed: "I'm even beginning to lose faith in Tammany."

* * *

A "speak" on a rosily tinged edge of Times Square, where Libby Holman and a high-flying crowd strove for a thump in the night-life decadence, is now known as "The Tony's," to distinguish it from the thousand other basement Tonys, where one pushes the bell and asks for Tony.

* * *

Most of the depression gags are high exaggerations, yet I think they have been of enormous value in tempering the winds. They have been wrung out by a national twist of a passing despair and any nation that can laugh at itself will likely enter calm waters again. One of the truest summings up of Russia was made by a [illegible] after a flight to Paris, when the revolution came. He said: "Our trouble has been we can not laugh at ourselves."

* * *

We who write have struggled as perhaps never before for a chuckle among readers. In touching off such safety valves, we have felt perhaps, we have added a wee bit in ironing out the sudden curves of life. One of my vague little day dreams has been of sitting in a street car or railroad train covertly watching somebody reading my column, and to behold them suddenly explode in a wild fit of laughing. I have never been that fortunate, but it is a recurring hope.

* * *

In his columning days on the sedate Evening Post, Christopher Morley once wrote: "We saw a man reading on a train but couldn't see what. On his cheek there wavered a faint crease a quiet flitting smile that meant the writer, whoever he was, had reached him. That cheek muscle is what all writers are aiming at. It bespeaks a quiet appreciation of human ways. Perhaps that cheek muscle, and not the fabled pineal gland, is the true residence of the soul."

* * *

Morley is super-modest. A muscle twitch does not interest us the slightest. Our ache is for the thundering rumble of a good old-fashioned deep down belly laugh.

While puttering along with the column, I have been trying to think of the printed joke stirring me to the heartiest laugh. I believe it was one Earl Mauck, home town editor, showed me years ago in a print-shop trade paper. A breezy live wire at a saloon bar was finishing a funny story to a group of cadgers. One glazed-lipped "bar fly", slapping him on the back in wide-mouthed guffawing was gasping: "Har, har, har, I'll take another whiskey!"

* * *

Then the late and lamented Grant Clarke's wheeze in a night club. A disheveled stew, on a prolonged bat, dropped in a chair beside him. He was incredibly filthy and the effluvia was a bit gamey. After a silence Grant observed archly: "I gather you are still riding for the Whitney stables!"—Copyright, 1932, McNaught Syndicate, Inc.

LOVERS—AND EX-LOVERS.

Alas, for the fragility of these summer romances! Like poplar trees and morning glories, they are short-lived—like "the good," they die so young!

* * *

To a man, every little summer love-affair is just another adventure; to a woman, it is a sort of keepsake—a little leaf in the Book of Memory.

There are some men who were born bachelors—born to be loved, but never to be married. The girl who dares to marry one of these will usually find him hopeless, as a husband. Marriage doesn't unite him to a woman, it merely attaches him to her, in a casual sort of way.

* * *

A bigamist is merely an altruist, whose misguided enthusiasm has led him to shoulder the matrimonial responsibilities of a pair of bachelor-shirkers.

* * *

The average man's heart is like one of these city-park flower-beds: continually blossoming—but always with something new or different.

* * *

A man has it all figured out that, if the two women in his life could only be "friends," each would see how impossible it was for him to live without the other.

* * *

The scientists seem to have discovered everything, except some way to camouflage spinach, a cold shower and a wife, so that they will look like temptations.

In these days, almost any good French-gilt frame will outlast two or three marriage certificates.

"A woman is always exchanging one set of troubles for another set," says Reno-Ruth. "She detaches a spendthrift with holes in his pockets—and attaches a tight-wad with glue in his pockets! She trades a 20-year-old for a 40-year-old—and finds that she still has an 'infant' on her hands!"—Copyright, 1932, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Daily Talk to Parents

BY ALICE JUDSON PEALE

NECESSARY FORGETTING.

An 8-year-old child went through a number of severe operations. For weeks she was dangerously ill and for many more weeks she had to wear a thick bandage over her head and throat.

When at last the day came when this could be removed, a change came over her bearing so striking that it could not pass unnoticed. During the weeks when she had to wear the bandage she had never voluntarily referred to the fact and had seemed to be living under a cloud. She had refused to let her hair be combed before a mirror and once when she caught sight of herself by accident she had burst out crying.

Now she pranced gaily about and was often found smiling into the glass. The scar on her throat, which she now saw for the first time, distressed her at first but she did not speak of it twice and, apparently, very soon ceased to see it.

In the weeks that followed she never mentioned anything in connection with the dreadful illness she had just been through. It was forgotten, obliterated altogether from her consciousness. If any one mentioned it she talked of something else.

Children fortunately possess to a high degree the ability, which to a certain extent we all have, of forgetting what is too painful to remember.

When we observe a child who is practicing this type of necessary suppression, we should do nothing to disturb the process. Upon its success depends at least partly his mental health.

Only thus can a heavy illness, the death of some beloved person or an extreme shock of any sort be relegated to the background to leave him free once more to absorb himself in the wholesome preoccupations of childhood.

No More Hemorrhoids

All Pile Agony Ended Without Cutting or Salves

If you think a surgical operation is the only way to get rid of itching bleeding or protruding Piles it's because you haven't heard of the harmless internal medicine discovered by a prominent western physician

After years of study Dr J S Leonhardt found the cause of Piles to be internal—congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the hemorrhoidal veins flabby, the bowel walls weak the parts almost dead. Right away the doctor set to work to find a real internal remedy He succeeded and after prescribing it for 1000 patients with success in over 900 cases he named his prescription HEM ROID

The doctor wants every Pile sufferer to benefit by his discovery and so there will be no doubting or delay Henney & Cooper and druggists everywhere are authorized to sell HEM ROID with guarantee of money back if it does not end Piles in any form

So why waste time on external treatments or think of an operation when HEM ROID tablets are guaranteed—Adv.

GET RID OF INDIGESTION IN A FEW MINUTES, OR Get Your Money Back

"Bicarb and milk of magnesia only make your indigestion worse in most cases for they weaken the digestive acid in your stomach so it cannot digest your food properly

Pepto-Bismol does not upset your stomach It relieves indigestion gently in a few minutes by stopping the souring of food in your stomach and the decay of food in your bowels The medicines in Pepto-Bismol which stop souring and decay are four of the finest medicines known to physicians. Read them on the bottle

Also Pepto-Bismol is not a patent medicine It is a prescription by The Norwich Pharmacal Company whose Unguentine and other fine products have held the respect of physicians surgeons hospitals nurses and druggists for nearly 50 years

If Pepto-Bismol does not get rid of your indigestion distress after eating heartburn and sour acid stomach in a few minutes get your money back from your druggist Delicious Pepto-Bismol is harmless Price 50c

But don't be absent minded and merely ask your druggist for "something for indigestion" Ask him for Pepto-Bismol by name Look for the name Pepto-Bismol on the bottle Refuse the unfair offer of something just as good which may hinder instead of help your digestion Ask for Pepto-Bismol by name and get what you ask for

My Beauty Hint

BY CONSTANCE BENNETT

I BELIEVE repose to be the source of all beauty

Restlessness is at the bottom of all feminine unloveliness and it saps the sureness of spirit without which no woman can be truly captivating The fine art of repose both physical and spiritual will give that poise and ease which is woman's most charming quality

A useful occupation is the most effective cure for unrest coupled with a conscious learning to relax during leisure moments

She had been married she told Sondra, and her husband had left her after two years

"I don't believe in men," she said calmly.

"But you must have loved him to have married him," Sondra said

"I don't believe in love," Mrs. Sears replied.

"What do you believe in" Sondra asked one day, half amused half depressed by her pessimism

"I don't believe that I believe in anything, except that we all have to stand on our own feet and look after ourselves," was the retort she received "It would have been a poor look-out for me if I hadn't been able to work and keep myself What becomes of the useless ones beats me, but I suppose things are always managed so that some one comes along and looks after them"

"I am one of the useless ones" Sondra thought with a pang. "I wonder what will become of me"

She had begun to be nervously afraid of going out for fear she should meet any one who had known her in the old days, and Cass was almost the only soul she ever met or spoke to,

Sometimes she had tea with him in the corner tea rooms. She was quite frank with him, feeling that she could trust him.

"I've disappeared so to speak for the moment," she said. "I'm not so well-off as I used to be, so I'm lying low till I can look round and make plans You won't give me away, will you?"

"You won't tell me where you're living?"

Sondra smiled.

"No, and I hope you won't try to find out," she said with pleading eyes

Cass shook his head reproachfully

"You know your own business best," he said "But it's a pity—it's a thousand pities."

Sondra had arranged to have any letters sent on through the bank but she received surprisingly few

She wrote at length to Mark, telling him of the sudden upheaval in her life and making a joke of it

"I am now that fashionable thing, a bachelor woman" she wrote, "but don't worry about me I am very well able to look out for myself."

If he guessed the truth she knew he would either cable for her to join him, or throw up his job and come home by the next boat.

And then—then what? Life on a small income, in some suburban town, with no hope of anything better.

"I can't, I can't," Sondra told herself despairingly, and yet what else was there for her to look forward to? What would she do when her money had all gone?

She often thought of Flora and wondered where she was

If they could have joined forces somewhere things would not have been so bad. Sondra knew that Flora really had great strength of character; Flora would always be able to make some sort of a life for herself, she would never look back and regret the step she had taken—she would march straight on, defying Fate.

The weather turned suddenly very hot, and there seemed very little air in the narrow street.

Sondra's bedroom looked out on to a garage where men seemed to be eternally washing cars and cranking engines; even at night the place was brilliantly illuminated, and the noise never ceased.

"You're getting thin," Mrs. Sears said critically one morning

"I was always thin," Sondra said quickly. "And I suppose it's the heat"

Mrs Sears hesitated, then she said "Well, it's not my business, and if you tell me so I shan't be offended, but why a young lady like you wants to come and live in a place like this beats me!"

Sondra laughed "I'm not hiding from the police, if you're afraid of that" she said

But she knew how strange it must seem Even her clothes looked out of place and unhappy in the plain little wardrobe.

"I suppose I look the same," she thought.

Then one morning she woke with a sore throat and a splitting headache She tried to get up, but she felt so weak and giddy that she was glad to creep back into bed again, and there Mrs Sears found her

"I'm afraid I've got a chill," Sondra apologized "Do you mind if I stay in bed for a little while?"

Mrs Sears laid a practical hand on the girl's forehead.

"You've got a temperature, too," she said "You stay where you are"

The Stars Say—

For Friday, Aug. 5

A RATHER unimportant day, with affairs moving in accustomed grooves, is presaged from the dominant astral influences. There may be slight worries, delays, disappointments or physical depressions, but in these there may be friendly sympathy or assistance It would be well to refrain from "stewing and fretting" As this accomplishes nothing and it is better to defer important affairs until a more propitious time

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a fairly quiet and uneventful year, with matters running in routine grooves, but with some slight obstructions, delays or anxieties, which may be a reaction from a depressed physical or mental condition. Seek cheerful companionship in these moods or even more substantial assistance. A child born on this day will be practical, diligent and should make success of its affairs

NOT ALL PEACEFUL

Bees Have Their Gang Wars, Ohio Apiarist Reports.

By International News Service

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 4 —Bees don't always bee-have.

Bee-lieve it or not, they have gang wars of their own and they're short-tempered insects

Frank Bornhoffer passes the information along. He should know. He has 70,000 of 'em and his aviaries dot Clermont, Hamilton, Butler and Preble counties.

Like gangland cliques in the underworld of humans, all is peaceful in bee land when there is plenty of honey, tho with gangsters it's money.

When a shower washes the nectar from flower and field or when a heat wave dries it up, it is not unusual, Frank said, if bees attempt to "muscle in" on other hives.

Then, he stated, the war is on and it is always a fight to the death

Moreover, when bees swarm or go on the warpath, they are impartial showing great indifference at whom they attack.

Handling bees in numbers, he continued, is large a matter of nerve and keeping the bees well fed.

Bornhoffer said bees will make friends with humans. He also credited them with a memory, saying they remembered from one year to the next where the most fertile honey areas were located

"Heart of a Wife"

BY ADELE GARRISON

Grantland Confides in Madge He and Dicky Have Found the Mountain Hiding Place Described in Marion's Code Message.

THERE was such confidence in Hugh Grantland's voice when he spoke of my part in the rescue of the girls that I quailed at the thought of having to tell him I could give him no aid whatever I knew that, able strategist as he was, he had carefully planned every detail of the attack he meant to make on the kidnapers, and that to have any block of his pattern lifted out was to mar the whole.

He evidently had thought that, having been given charge of the attack by my father, he was entitled to call for aid upon any one of us, and to assign us to our places in his plan. That he felt especially sure of my co-operation I knew, because of our association during the World war in several bits of dangerous government work. In fact, my acquaintance with Hugh Grantland dated from his rescue of me while we were engaged upon a certain bit of espionage that later proved of distinct value to the government.

Grantland's Plans

He was entitled to my cheerful co-operation in any task he set for me, and I found myself suddenly resentful at Dicky for exacting a promise from me to stay at the hotel during the rescue.

Basely postponed the moment of telling him of my defection. Perhaps if I racked my brain I could plan something that would soften the blow. I used the word deliberately, and without any personal conceit, for I knew that in this thing, as in any piece of work Hugh Grantland set himself to do, his helpers were to him as automatons, but such necessary robots, when embodied in his plans, that the losing of any one of them was like taking a cog out of a delicately functioning and high-powered machine, and would be as much a blow to him as if some one's clenched fist had struck him.

"Are you all right now?" Hugh's voice, tender, solicitous, broke through my panicky planning. "I should not have told you the news so abruptly. There is no hurry. We can sit here until you are yourself again, and then I will drive"

I pulled myself together, and seized this heaven-sent opportunity for delaying my announcement to him that I could not help him

"I am perfectly all right now," I told him, "but I shan't be able to live much longer if I do not learn just what you and Dicky found out this morning"

He laughed and I saw thankfully that I had diverted his attention, for a time at least.

"We must prevent a calamity like that," he said "I will tell you at once everything we saw In the first place, we found the lake and the big trees, one of them struck by lightning, just as Marion described them in her code letter. We also saw the house, answering her description as far as we could determine from our height As nearly as we were able to check—and I think we were pretty accurate—the roads that Samuel Brixton traveled last night with you and Ronald trailing, lead ultimately to that place There are other roads also, by which the twisting narrow mule paths that are nearest to it can be reached"

"But isn't there a chance that you will miss the roads in an attack made after dark?" I asked

"Not if my plans work out, and I think they will," he returned with quiet confidence "That is the reason I telephoned you, instead of Harry Underwood, because of my fear that Mrs Brixton might be in the Underwood apartment.

A Perfect Plan

"I want you to get hold of Mr. Underwood for me, and tell him I need him immediately. Under the pretext of scouting out the region for telephone lines, I'm going to throw a gang of supposed workmen into that locality today. In reality they are trained men, some coming for me, others for your father and Mr. Underwood. The cleverest one of the lot will take the immediate region of the house, but I warrant the kidnapers will not suspect his real errand.

By the time they all get through, we shall have a perfect map of just where we're going If we have luck we can stage the rescue tonight, but we will risk nothing until our plans are perfected What do you think about it?"

"Oh it's wonderful!" I cried You have thought of everything!"

I have tried to" he said, not boastfully, but simply, in the manner of a commander who appraises his own work as clearly as he does that of those he is directing, "and I am glad you approve of the plan I shall leave it to you to tell Mrs Underwood about it, and to insure her staying with Mrs Brixton, so that there can be no possible leak in our plans in case Mr Brixton returns I will let you know what time you are to join us but please be in readiness from 8 o'clock on."

REVIVE GAS VICTIM

By International News Service

CHICAGO—A half hour's work by a police inhalator squad saved the life of William T. Andrews, 65, when he was overcome by carbon monoxide gas in a garage here

"It's too quaint the way Beth gets runs in her stockings"
"Wouldn't you think she'd learn the right way of washing?"

• The LUX way to make stockings wear

LUX for stockings
2 minutes a day keeps them like new

DO YOU know why the Lux way of washing doubles stocking wear?

It's because Lux is made to preserve elasticity. That's the "live" quality that makes stockings give under strain. Stretch and then spring right back again.

If you wash away elasticity, then the delicate threads break under strain, causing ruinous runs. Or they sag, causing wrinkles, seedy seams!

Just tuck your stockings in Lux suds each night and see how beautifully they always fit and what a long time they wear!
